STATE-OF-THE-ART GRAPHICS

We have kept our oath for clear, simple, yet visually astounding graphics which will make you fall in love at first sight.

Adonis Games - WE DO ARTSY GAMES

We are a small indie team, an army of 2, the creators of Watercolors, which was downloaded more than 2 million times.

We are committed to showing that games can be a form of art. We are committed to creating state-of-the-art graphics, chill music and a seamless user experience. We stand for a high-end experience that will stimulate all your senses at once. We stand for clarity, simplicity and no ads.

The success we had with our first game took us by surprise. We've realized it was missing a storyline and a social component. Since our game was artsy and it was about painting and mixing watercolors, it immediately made sense that we should present the story of an artist. And she's not just any artist. Amelie's personality was created together with friends of ours who were big fans of the first game. It's safe to say that it was not us alone who've built this game. We've built Watercolors: The Journey together with our users and each decision went through them. It took us over a year, but it was well worth it.
